General Disclaimer

The information in this document may contain predictive statements including, without limitation, statements regarding the future financial and operating results, future Power Unit portfolio, new technology, etc. There are a number of factors that could cause actual results and developments to differ materially from those expressed or implied in the predictive statements. Therefore, such information is provided for reference purpose only and constitutes neither an offer nor an acceptance. Huawei may change the information at any time without notice.

Instructions for using the document:

- 1. This document is only applicable to Huawei Digital Power FusionCharge Power Unit warranty policies in the situations of partners purchasing Huawei power units separately with Huawei nameplates delivered.
- 2. Charging dispenser partners must be the enterprises or integrators that have successfully established industry cooperation with Huawei.
- 3. Huawei nameplates must be retained on power units. Otherwise, warranty cannot be authenticated and Huawei's warranty services are not guaranteed.

1 Applicable Scope

- 1.1 The warranty is only applicable in the country or region where Purchaser purchased the Huawei FusionCharge Power Unit. The warranty cannot be transferred to another country or region unless specifically stated in the Power Unit warranty description. If the Power Unit is moved to another country or region, the new Purchaser can choose to purchase the warranty service, but an audit procedure such as a Power Unit inspection must be performed before Purchaser signs for the warranty service.
- 1.2 The warranty cannot be transferred to another Purchaser and is provided only for the original Purchaser of the Power Unit.
- 1.3 The warranty must comply with local laws or other applicable regulations.
- 1.4 Huawei may modify the warranty content. Purchaser may visit <https://digitalpower.huawei.com> to obtain the latest updates.

2 Warranty Period

2.1 Warranty start date: The warranty period starts from the 90th day after Huawei ships the products or the POD (proof of delivery) date, whichever is earlier. If the customer/partner requires a different start date, for example PAC, the warranty start date shall not be later than the 180th day after the shipment date. The actual warranty start date shall be subject to the terms set out in the contract.

2.2 Warranty period for Power Unit

Power Unit Category	Power Unit Description	Warranty Period (Year)	Remarks
FusionCharge Power unit	FusionCharge liquid-cooled DC charging power unit	2	Not include consumables
Mechanical parts	Emergency switch, protective cover (passive), bracket, etc.	/	No warranty
Cabinet and accessories	Cabinet mechanical parts, documents, Power Unit accessories, and installation accessories (such as mounting ears and guide rails), etc.
Coolant	Glycol coolant (50% volume concentration of glycol solution)

NOTE

- i) Extended warranty: Before the end of the standard warranty period, Purchaser may purchase extended warranty service by signing a new service contract or extending the existing service contract with Huawei. Purchaser may consult Huawei local service team for more details. In principle, the entire warranty period shall be continuous from the start date defined above. Otherwise, the warranty service is not available for purchase.
- ii) Release of liability: Upon the expiry of the warranty period specified in the service contract, Huawei shall not provide any service or support to the related Power Units or software, and shall be exempted from any legal and compensation liabilities.

3 Warranty Service Content

- 3.1 During the standard warranty period, Huawei shall provide remote technical support and hardware support services. The onsite service is not included.
- 3.2 The FusionCharge DC charging system shall be connected to FusionCharge O&M platform. Otherwise, Huawei cannot provide remote troubleshooting or remote software update services. However, if the customer's operation management platform provides log export function, and the customer allows Huawei to analyze the logs, Huawei can still provide remote troubleshooting and spare parts support.
- 3.3 Beyond the warranty period and extended warranty period, Huawei no longer provides hardware support, remote troubleshooting, or remote software updates, and Purchaser cannot purchase onsite services. Only limited remote support services are available.
- 3.4 FusionCharge DC charging system warranty services and service SLA

Service Category	Service Item	SLA	DC Charging System
Remote technical support	Hotline support	7×24	√
	Remote troubleshooting	5×9	√
	Online technical support	7×24	√
Hardware support	Spare parts support	5×9×2BD-S	√
Onsite support	Hardware replacement	/	Not included for free
	Onsite troubleshooting	/	Not included for free

NOTE

- a) 7×24: 00:00–24:00, Monday to Sunday.
- b) 5×9: 09:00–18:00, Monday to Friday, excluding statutory holidays.
- c) 2BD-S: The spare parts shipment date is within two business days after Huawei confirms that hardware replacement is necessary and receives the RMA information. Advanced spare parts replacement and hardware replacement services requested after 15:30 will be deemed as requests submitted on the next calendar day.
- d) The above SLA is subject to the actual capabilities and commitments of the local spare parts service.
- e) If Purchaser does not provide the address information in time or the address information provided is incorrect, the service response and troubleshooting may be delayed.

- f) The advanced spare parts replacement service is provided to help Purchaser rectify faults rapidly in case of emergency. For Purchasers who request warranty services on the same piece of spare part within seven consecutive days over 50% more times than the monthly average for that piece of spare part in the last three months, Huawei will make full efforts to meet the request, but does not promise to achieve 100% SLA.

3.5 Warranty Service Guide

- a) Guide to service request: Purchaser may request for services from Huawei by calling the hotline, or sending emails, or directly consulting the local service provider or dealer authorized by Huawei:

Hotline: <https://digitalpower.huawei.com/en/contact.html>

Service email: <https://digitalpower.huawei.com/en/contact.html>

- b) Additional Services:

If Purchaser has any requirements beyond the warranty scope for the Power Units, it can visit <https://digitalpower.huawei.com>, or contact Huawei sales/service manager. Through these channels, you can learn about Huawei's in-warranty upgrade services, extended warranty services, and other service Power Units, which ensure the safe and efficient operation of your Power Units.

4 Warranty Disclaimer

- 4.1 All the preceding warranty services are applicable only to Huawei-manufactured Power Units, which does not cover the auxiliary materials and mechanical parts.
- 4.2 The parties hereby agree that Huawei's compensation against Purchaser's loss under this warranty agreement shall only cover the direct and reasonable losses incurred, justifiable with evidences, to Purchaser due to Huawei's fault or Power Unit issue. Huawei shall not be liable for any indirect damages including but not limited to loss of income or profit, damage to reputation, or loss of data. The maximum liability of Huawei under this warranty agreement shall not exceed the amount paid by Purchaser to Huawei for the related Power Unit.
- 4.3 Huawei is not responsible for any legal and/or compensation liability caused by any actions or omissions of Purchaser or any third party, including but not limited to:
- a) Negligence, reckless or intentional misconduct; or
  - b) Failure to comply with any obligations specified in this document; or
  - c) Transportation, storage, installation, configuration, use, maintenance, and/or operation of the Power Units and/or services in any manner not in accordance with the instructions/guidelines/manuals/specifications or warnings, cautions, labels, or any other information on the Power Unit; or
  - d) Direct damage due to the operational environment or external electrical parameters not meeting the written system requirements; or
  - e) Huawei equipment is faulty due to the use of non-Huawei accessories, or the incompatibility between third-party software or hardware.
  - f) Without Huawei's authorization, disassemble Huawei's equipment, disassemble components on Huawei's equipment and install them on other equipment, or install third-party components on Huawei's equipment.
  - g) Huawei nameplates are not retained on the FusionCharge DC charging power unit.
  - h) Huawei is not responsible for customers' data stored in Huawei's Power Units or related to the Power Units in other forms. Customers are responsible for backing up related data to prevent loss.
  - i) Damage caused by maintenance or other services performed by personnel not authorized by Huawei; or
  - j) adjustment, alteration, and removal of identification signs performed in violation of Huawei's requirements.

- k) Damage to Huawei-manufactured Power Units due to natural wear and tear; or
- l) Damage caused by lightning due to improper system design; or

4.4 Huawei cannot provide warranty services or meet the SLA commitment in the following situations, and shall not be held liable therefore:

- a) Accidents caused by force majeure (such as fires, floods, earthquakes, and lightning strikes);
- b) Deteriorated service conditions caused by social issues (such as upheavals, wars, strikes, and government regulations);
- c) Supply interruption of resources (such as electricity, water, and fuel);
- d) Interruption of carrier's communications system;
- e) Power units are not connected to FusionCharge O&M platform.
- f) Charging dispenser partners do not establish industry cooperation with Huawei.
